SUMMER SAFETY

HOT ASH PROPER DISPOSAL

Whether it's for a BBQ or a cozy winter fire, hot coals and fresh ashes are a part of daily life. While convenient, these elements can easily ignite inside your curbside cart if not handled properly. Follow these simple guidelines to dispose of ashes safely and protect your family, neighbors, and our drivers:

- Cool the Coals: Let coals cool for several days in a fireplace or grill. Once cooled, transfer them to a metal container with a tight-fitting lid before placing them in your trash cart.
- Avoid Unsafe Containers: Never put used coals in plastic, paper, or wooden containers.
- Speed Up Cooling: To expedite the cooling process, carefully place coals in a metal container filled with water to extinguish any residual embers.
- Separate Combustibles: Do not place other combustible materials in the same container as the ashes.
